LOCAL NOTES.

Another good shower yesterday. The city Trustees met last evening.

Henry Sharp and family leave for Napa City tonight.

Governor Kinkaid will remain in the city a few days longer.

The registry books for the City election are now open at the Justice Court.

R. L. Thomas, the Franktown agriculturist, was in the city yesterday.

The Elko Grand Jury are preparing the city of Elko against cholera.

Eight tramps were taken in yesterday and then told to move on. They went to Reno.

Folsom & Dunn are selling oats, wheat and ground barley, at 2 1/2 cts. per pound, respectively.

Eclipse Extra Dry is the only native Champagne equal to any imported, and but half the price.

The attendance at the skating rink increases nightly. Gordon won the potato race on Saturday night.

Chester Rail announces that his new humorous work entitled "Mamma's Pet," a sequel to Peck's Bad Boy is nearly ready for publication.

Among the fashionable dances now taught in London are the "Boston Slough," the "New York Pump handle," the "Kensington Crawl," and the "English Straight."

The Supreme Court of the District of Columbia has issued a perpetual injunction declaring that Sarah Althea Hill has no rights in the property of ex Senator Sharon.

For Banquets Dinners and Parties use Eclipse Extra Dry, it is equal to any and superior to most imported brands, and the only natural California champagne in the market.

In Reno when a man commits suicide they wait to see how long it takes life to become extinct and then cut him down. If the papers report the matter correctly it took Strong "less than thirty minutes."

A Democratic member of Congress has figured the thing out, and says that at the present rate it would take President Cleveland just sixty years to clean the Republicans out of the Government service.

The people of the Eastern States are trying hard to work up a cholera scare, and if there is anything in working up the imagination on the subject, it will come. Nevada has little to fear from that scare.

The inharmonious condition of the Democracy has reached Fureka. The Democratic majority of the Board of county Commissioners have reached a stage of antagonism that promises overt acts of war at any moment.

It is reported that C. C. Stevenson has secured control of the Justice, and will begin the extraction of low-grade ore from the large vein known to exist on the upper levels of that mine after the annual election, which occurs early in May.

When an Indian kills a Chinaman he is convicted of murder in the first degree, but when an Indian kill a white man he is convicted of manslaughter. Such are the verdicts of two Nye county trial juries. A few more such verdicts and the taxpayers will pray for the abolishment of the present jury system.—Belmont Courier.

The makers of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder have established a wide reputation for putting upon the market articles excellent in their strength, purity and healthfulness. Their constantly increasing popularity renders it impossible for them to place before the public anything which is not found to be not only harmless but positively beneficial.

Pasturage

I have 350 acres of good pasturage and first class water facilities, at the old Conner ranch on the State Prison road. Am prepared to pasture cattle and horses, and will make a specialty of milch cows.

Cows taken to and from any part of the city, morning and evening, by competent drivers and pastured for $2 a month. Inquire on the premises, or leave orders at Rosser's butcher shop.

A MINE OF INFORMATION.

THE TENTH CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES.

A MASS OF STATISTICS COSTING MILLIONS TO COMPILE.

The APPEAL has just received from Washington two volumes. One relates to the population of the United States, and the other to its agriculture and manufacturing industries. The work on population contains 961 pages exclusive of maps. Each page contains about 160 square inches of finely printed matter. The statistics give the population of every town and county in the United States, and then by maps illustrates the diversity of population in such a way that the whole of the United States can be taken in at a glance. For instance, the illustration of the density of the population is in brown. A section of country containing 100,000 to the square mile is printed this color, this takes in the big cities, another plate prints 50,000 to the mile, the next 25,000, and so on down, until five persons to the square mile are represented by a pale brown tint. When such a map receives about twenty separate impressions the hue increases in darkness with the population, and a single glance at such a map gives the result of years of patient investigation and statistical work costing millions of dollars.

The rain-fall is illustrated in blue. The country north of the Gulf, Mississippi and Alabama has the most, Florida next, then a thin strip along the sea line of the Pacific coast and Nevada is represented as having the least of all, or below five inches a year. This was the showing in 1880, and now the Nevada rainfall has increased to 26 inches.

The foreign population as compared with the native, the black with the white, and the Irish and German respectively are shown in the same way. Over one hundred maps, each one a marvel of artistic work, represent the various phases of the population, and the tables are printed alongside the maps.

The occupations of all are given in alphabetical order.

THE LADIES.

These tables show some peculiar things. For instance, there are 288 female journalists in the United States, 1820 actresses under fifteen years of age, 2,232 female physicians, 16 who practice dentistry, 25 who plead as lawyers, 33 keep livery stables, 24 act as sextons, 14 are engaged as detectives, 56 are down as designers and inventors and 165 preach the gospel. The census also enumerates females barbers 2,902, beside 122 engaged in stock-raising and 534,900 engaged as agricultural laborers, 94 herd stock and 125 are engaged in making turpentine, 76 carry newspapers, 447 are in the railroad business, 1,131 are telegraphers, 1,308 keep saloons, 183 run steamboats, 3,794 keep grocery stores, 55 are undertakers, 21,000 make shoes, 61 make beer, 138 are down as carriage and wagon makers, 195 are down as gunsmiths, 374 make rails, 776 are ragpickers and 451 take photographs. These occupations do not represent over one-tenth of the occupation in which women are engaged, but only the trades and professions are enumerated in this article, in which women are not supposed to be generally engaged. One woman is put down as a horse-breaker, all of which goes to show that a woman can enter about any trade or profession she wants to, if she has the ability.

NEVADA.

This State has 32,233 persons engaged in regular occupations, of which 4,180 are connected with agricultural work, 10,373 are in professional and personal service, 4,449 in trade and 13,231 in manufacturing. Fishermen and oystermen are down as 12, although a good many will be puzzled to know where the oyster beds are worked. The mines are down as 6,647. The railroads give 990 men and the steamboats number thirty-two. The natives are as follows: United States, 13,764; England, 3,484; Ireland, 2,688; Germany, 1,623; Sweden, 374; British America, 2,317; other countries, 798.

FEATURES OF POPULATION.

Maps also show the distribution of population as compared with the rainfall. The majority of people crowd toward the sections of country where the irrigation is natural. The ratio of population as compared with temperature shows that the warmer regions are the most inhabited. A map of the United States showing the mean temperature for each month in the year, for the ten years prior to 1880 is shown by red shadings. The distribution of population as compared with the altitude of States shows mainly that people are willing to live anywhere between the snow line and sea level.

MANUFACTURES.

The work on manufactures occupies 1198 pages and gives a complete history of all the manufactures of the United States in their various stages of development, illustrated by maps and tables. Every conceivable industry is embraced and every county in the United States represented where anything is made down even to a single barrel of cider vinegar. This volume illustrates the method by which almost everything we wear or use is made, together with the machinery, processes, etc., and the kind of houses the workmen occupy.

Not the least interesting feature of the work is a chapter in which the attacks on the accuracy of the census are taken up and disposed of, and in a many instances it is shown that when local newspapers disputed the accuracy of the figures of the Government, in the counties where the papers were published, a double force of agents were sent again to the place to make separate canvasses, and in nearly all instances the reports of government officers were fully sustained by the facts.

Probably no two books ever published in the world, represent so much actual expenditure of money and such a vast field of careful research as these.

Sagacity of Fowls.

Homer Curtis, car inspector of the Central Pacific R. R. at Wells Nevada has thirteen Plymouth Rock chickens that have been hatched and raised in the R. R. depot. Regularly, at 11 o'clock A. M., these chickens will be found perched on top of the freight house, and remain there until the arrival of the East-bound emigrant train (No. 5). At 12 noon, then they come down by means of the signal Service ladder, to the cars; there they are often fed crumbs by the emigrants. They are not timid, going in and out of the cars, flying through open windows, and seem perfectly at home, and frequently riding on the train on its departure, a half a mile or more from town. The strangest feature of these fowls is, that No. 8, the West-bound emigrant train, which comes in about 2:30 P. M., they are never near. As soon as the train comes in sight some three miles off, they give the danger signal peculiar to chickens when a hawk or fox appears, and they all go to their henery, and remain there until the train leaves.

Mr. Curtis assigns the reason for this strange action that one of the brood when young, were stolen by a tramp on the brake-beam of the West bound emigrant. They are favorites of the R. R. boys on the Humboldt and Salt Lake Division, and are perfectly contented and at home around their cabooses, and, in fact, all trains except No. 8.

Occasionally, when they are particularly well fed, they reward the emigrants by laying a few eggs on the seats, but when they do not get much food they lay no eggs on the train.

Arbor Day.

If there is a State in the Union that needs an "Arbor Day," it is Nevada and if we would drop into the custom of observing such a holiday, great good would result. There are now eight states observing Arbor Day, and if Governor Adams will issue a proclamation naming a day and requesting all citizens to plant a tree he will do the State greater service than by pushing land-slide bills.

Steamer Notice.

On and after the first day of January, 1885, the steamer "Tod Goodwin," will leave Glenbrook at 6 A. M., Tuesdays and Fridays carrying the United States mail. To the Incline, Hot Springs, Tahoe City, McKinney's, Tallac, Rolland's, arriving in Glenbrook at 1 P. M., connecting with Keyser & Elrod's stage, J. TOPMAN, Captain.
